Course Description

This exercise is intended to improve participant’s awareness of and their response to phishing incidents through cyber threat-based scenarios. This exercise works best with a combination of individuals from different roles working together. Participants will work in groups to discuss scenarios and plan responses to phishing attempts. There will be a discussion of the indications of phishing and ways to verify validity. The exercise closes with a discussion of case studies of actual cybersecurity incidents, how the attacked organizations responded, and lessons learned from the incidents.

The resources for this tabletop exercise were provided by CISA, February 27, 2023, revision.
