

University of West Florida | Graduate School

Student Spotlight: Clement Yeboah

Updated July 30, 2019

Clement Yeboah, Administration & Leadership Studies

I like UWF, why? Their professors are... the faculty and staff, their doors are always open for everyone.

You can give them a call, and on the phone, they can still explain things to you. They will take your call at any time. Isn't this wonderful? I've never experienced that before.

After class, I'll see them face-to-face, one-on-one, out of office and they will get time for me. It makes me feel comfortable here on campus. I think UWF will be the best, one of the best administrations in America that can help me achieve my goal.

If you want to be one of the best students, one of the best people out there, and want to be marketable out there, just come to UWF.