“UWF’s strong connection with the community of Pensacola enabled collaboration of the local hospitals and health centers to facilitate a fantastic learning opportunity.”

—Kymberly Palmer, Recent UWF Graduate

Undergraduate Degrees

Athletic Training
Exercise Science and Community Health
Exercise Science
Fitness and Conditioning
Physical Education/Teacher Education
Health Promotion
Health Sciences
Healthcare Administration
Public Health
Medical Lab Sciences
Nursing, Pre-Licensure, BSN
Nursing, RN-BSN
Psychology

Minors

Community Health Promotion
Physical Education
Psychology
Sport and Exercise Psychology

What are you waiting for?
Make Your Splash

Apply: uwf.edu/apply
Visit: uwf.edu/visit
Questions? 850.474.2230 or admissions@uwf.edu
Admitted? visit uwf.edu/nextsteps
The College of Health offers opportunities for students to learn in dynamic classroom environments, online classes and “real-world” experiential learning internships with our community partners. From laboratory science, to acute care, to chronic care, to prevention and wellness education, to exercise science and athletic training, the College of Health takes a holistic approach to the concepts of continuum of care and quality of life.

Some go with the flow. Others make a splash.

Nationally Accredited Programs

Athletic Training
Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE)

Medical Lab Sciences
National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS)

Nursing
Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE)

Physical Education Teacher Education
Nationally accredited by NCATE

Physical Therapy
Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE)

Psychology
Master’s in Psychology Accreditation Council (MPAC)

Public Health
Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH)

College of Health embraces working with the healthcare community to strengthen relationships and improve the health of the public.