From Admitted to #ArgoNation, Your Quest Starts Now

Opportunity waits for no one. So jump in, get your feet wet and make a splash. From a state-of-the-art simulation lab to discovering shipwrecks just under the surface, the University of West Florida is the perfect place to start making waves.

Dive into research with our award-winning faculty, and discover ways to change the world. Our students have written and published their own books, started their own companies and played at Carnegie Hall. Our faculty have built robots, created mobile apps and taken their classes on road trips across the country.
